SELF-EXPRESSION

THE aim of music study should be to make it a part of the general education, and to awaken the musical instinct so that it will bring forth self-development and self-expression.

Without neglecting the technic, Mr. Gilbert in his piano instruction centers the attention upon the interpretation and the harmonic structure of music. The ability to express one's self in simple melodies is a great highway to self-expression. Fundamental knowledge of the harmonic foundation of music is essential and can be taught simply.

As this is true of vocal as well as instrumental music, Mr. Gilbert will coach also singers in self-expression through the interpretation of songs.

Mr. Gilbert may be seen by appointment only, at his studio.
